- YUOTC members are sending in the contest:

RS/T + serial number of the QSO (starting from 001 and continuing in the second period) and V (V=veteran) example: 599 001 V

RS/T + serial number of the QSO (starting from 001 and continuing in the second period) example: 599 001

7. Points and multipliers

- QSO's with YUØOTC and the club station with a special call sign of the Veterans Club (if active during the competition) bring:
10 CW points and 5 SSB points;
- QSO's with other participants brings 2 CW points and 1 SSB point.

The multipliers are:

- a. QSO's with YUØOTC, which transmits "OTC" during contest.
 - b. QSO's with the veterans' club station with a special call sign (if active at the time of the contest) which also transmits "OTC" during contest.
 - c. members of YUOTC, which transmits "V" during contest.
 - d. the multiplier is recognized if the call sign appears in at least 10 logs per period
- One QSO with the same ARS is allowed per period.
 - Points for QSO's with another station, where the QSO time differs by more than 3 minutes will not be counted.
 - Invalid QSO's (incomplete, with incorrectly received data or with incorrectly entered data) will not count in the final sum.

- The total number of points is obtained as follows:

I period: the number of QSO points is multiplied by the number of multipliers from that period.

II period: the number of QSO points is multiplied by the number of multipliers in that period.

For MIX, the number of points of the first period is simply added to the number of points of the second period.

Example:

I period $40 \times 20 = 800$

II period $50 \times 20 = 1000$

Mix = 1800
